"Professional qualifications or Certificates of Competency in Marine Engineering can only be achieved via a definite pathway. Certificates are issued by Australian Maritime Safety Authority (AMSA) as per requirements laid down in STCW convention of International Maritime Organisation (IMO). These courses are only part of the pre-requisites for the eligibility with AMSA for their oral examination prior to actual issuance of the Certificates of Competency. A student must also have specific and necessary training and sea-service before they are eligible for AMSA oral examinations. Therefore, all students are advised to contact AMSA Examiner and get their eligibility assessed before applying for these courses. A copy of the AMSA "Eligibility Letter" should be sent with the application form. AMSA requirements and their contact details are obtainable from the website: www.amsa.gov.au Marine Certificate of Competency (CoC) Services website."
